

Program for the visibility and incorporation of creative women into the fantastic filmography

Sitges, International Fantastic Film Festival of Catalonia

WOMAN IN FAN

A girl walks alone...

The figure of the female filmmaker within the fantastic is considered a rara avis. The cultural and social patterns that prevail in the film industry have traditionally identified certain genres as belonging to female sensibilities, entrusting the leadership of projects within terror, science fiction, action or thriller, for example, to male creators.

WomanInFan was born with the aim to vindicate the role of the female filmmaker within the fantasy genre.

Historical visibility

There have been women linked to fantastic production since the beginning of filmmaking, but their names have been forgotten, subordinated to the signatures of their male companions, or they have been little claimed.

WomanInFan aims to highlight on the historical memory of all those women who have contributed in one way or another to the history of fantasy cinema. In this sense, the creation of an online documentary collection of memorabilia begins.
